

Your letter was so good and timely! Hmmm....so much! As I was reading, I knew in Him what you were going to say! I was reminded of my own understanding and how it has changed so much over the years, and how the Lord used so many dreams to help me understand what His intentions really were for me personally and how I would fit into the Body. So, your letter was appreciated...again! The prince of Persia...timely topic for us in this hour. Admittedly, I once looked more at/to the natural. Now it has become more natural to look at the spiritual. I'm so blessed to have you in my life reinforcing what the Lord has done in me and in His Body!!! It is so obvious that we have had many mothers and fathers in the Lord, or should I say forerunners, until we should join that same entourage!

In keeping with what you shared, which to me is a huge WOW, I just have to share this dream from many years ago. I may have shared it before, but it is so timely with what you wrote.

"I was watching as two lines of people converged into one line from opposite sides of a huge mountain. One group of people was moving out from behind the left side of the mountain as the other group was doing the same from the right side, until they both came out on the other side, converging into one group. That's when I saw myself in the single line after the two groups had converged and begun to move out from the mountain. I turned around to look at those behind me and saw M. Guyon with glowing golden hair, smiling at me. We were all now in a single line moving as one." This morning, I was thinking about this dream again, and the thought came, "The last shall be first, and the first shall be last." It always astounded me to think that I would be with those spiritual mentors and patriarchs (of all time) to become His will in/on the earth.

The Lord reminded me of the above dream while reading your comments about Michael's last trump, but when I got to the "we have arrived dream" I was even more amazed. We have been gathered into Him, are coming out from Him, and are being sent forth as Him, as one Body doing His works in the earth.....and greater than we can even think or imagine. So hidden has his advanced cadre been, as you shared. We've even been hidden from knowing who we are and where we've been. The truth shall come out in great shouts of joy and recognition that the Lord has appeared to us in blazing glory, to write His name on our hearts and minds.

I could say so much more about this last letter, but I am still absorbing all that was shared!!! Thank you so much!

Love you dearly,
Julie
